

Life Shines in Vocation - Rev. Jeff Leininger

Pastor Leininger served twenty-one years in campus ministry at Concordia University Chicago, where his greatest joy was working with young people, helping shape them for ministry and service. He currently serves First Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, a historic congregation on Chicago's North Side, and loves being back in full-time parish ministry. His recent book, Callings for Life: God's Plan, Your Purpose, applies Martin Luther's theology of vocation to the day-to-day life of a Christian. He has an MPhil and PhD in Ecclesiastical history from the University of Cambridge.
